Mr. Hewitt recently returned from an extended visit in the western part of the state and Michigan. Forty years ago this summer he came to Canfield to work in the Senenbacher belt factory then located on North Broad street. In strolling about the village he said he was pleased to note many improvements.

A Good Feeder.

Edmund Byrne, who conducts a restaurant on Ridge avenue in Philadelphia, is liberal to a fault, and no hungry man has ever appealed to him in vain. The other evening a husky stranger walked into his restaurant and told Byrne he was Jimmy Ryan, a miner of Mahoning City, and that he needed some food for which he would be glad to send him the money by special delivery after he returned home.

The special delivery idea appealed to Byrne, so he told the waiter that he would O. K. the check. Half an hour later Ryan returned to see how the miner had made out. He had "made out" this: Nine large beef sandwiches, three Swiss cheese sandwiches, five raw tomatoes, three ears of corn, six cups of coffee, four fried eggs, two slices of ham and five glasses of water.

Byrne gazed at his stranger's bill, and putting out his hand, said to the husky miner: "Here, partner, take this half dollar with you; you may need it. A man with your appetite is likely to grow hungry before morning."

THE BATTLE OF THE BREEDS

GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD

Tired, retired and rubber tired, are the three classes into which the city teacher is divided. The displays to be made by the Wooster Experiment Station and other state institutions will give good insight to the great work being done to improve agricultural conditions. The new Dairy Building will add an interesting chapter to the Fair. This will be one of the finest structures on the ground. Professor Oscar Brf. of the Ohio State University, will give actual and practical demonstrations of the making of cheese and other phases of the milk and butter business. A troupe of fine black Russian stallions will maneuver twice daily in front of the grand stand. The State Fair and Centennial will attract greater crowds to Columbus than ever before. The dates are August 26th to 31st. For catalogs, entry blanks and other information, address A. P. Sandles, Secretary, State House.

Will Wonders Never Cease?

Well, We Should Say Not.

They still go. We have sold 24 Wonder Washing Machines since April 23, 1912, the greatest sale of Washing Machines ever made in this community. They come for them from far and near. And yet it is no wonder for they are such a Wonder. Come in and get one, try it and if it doesn't do all that is claimed for it, it may be returned.

LARGE ONLY IN THE CHEST

Physically Small Man, With Shrewd Head, Had the Laugh on the Big Fellow.

Being a large man—bodily, that is—Singleton generally gives us the p.p. He has a nasty habit of inflating his two-yard chest and glaring plyingly on us, the smaller fry. The staff held a whistle drive last week, and there was hardly anything else in it but Singleton for quite a while.

Then Myleton came in. Myleton's our quiet man; little chap, generally comes in late everywhere, but comes in just the same. The conversation got to brawn and muscle. It generally does where Singleton is. At last Myleton clipped in.

"Look here, Singleton, I'll wager you an even half-quid I measure more round the waist than you do."

We all stared, and Singleton nearly choked.

"I'll take you," he grinned, "and give you five one, if you like."

"Done!" said Myleton.

Then, in the dressing-room Singleton ran the tape round Myleton, and cried contemptuously:

"Thirty-four inches! As broad across the shoulders as a herring across the forehead."

Myleton's face fell, but he picked it up again, and, placing the tape round Singleton he called loudly:

"Fifty-nine inches!" Then, to the stakeholder, "I'll take that three pounds, please."

"But how?" Singleton said.

"Well," said Myleton, "the big chest was yours, but I measured round it!"

There's been an awful shrinkage in Singleton—London Tit-Bits.

SPOONING CALLED LOST ART

Annapolis Not What It Used to Be, Naval Officer Declares, but He Is Wrong.

Let us for a moment turn from the turmoil of politics and contemplate the classic precincts of Annapolis. In that old town, famous for its statehouse and its crabs, is situated the institution which supplies us with our gold braided officers of the navy. At Annapolis, however, they are mere lads, not altogether in love with their studies, but fondly, fondly loving all the girls.

And yet, here comes an old curmudgeon who says that spooning at Annapolis is not what it used to be. He grimly asserts that the new and imposing granite buildings have taken the romance out of the place and that flirting is not the sweet and tender thing of long ago. Wherefore, he utters loud lamentations and sighs for the days of old.

Time has wrought changes, sure enough, but it is in the old naval officer and not in the romantic corners of the Naval Academy. These still afford delicious places in which to spoon, and the activities of our future admirals bear witness to the fact.

He Drew the Line.

"Hold on, there!" called Charon to the new arrival at the ferry over the Styx. "You wait until the next trip, and I'll take you over alone."

"Why this distinction?" inquired one of the spirit passengers.

"Oh, he's one of those fools that rock the boat, and I didn't want to spoil the trip for the rest of you."

Must Be Uncle Russell.

"Money is like blood," said the Spendthrift Nephew, "it isn't any good unless it keeps in circulation."

"Yes," answered the Wise Uncle, "but you shouldn't let either of them get away from you."

He Knew Her.

"Wait a minute," she said to the young man.

Now, the young man, being a wise party, immediately went to the telephone and told his friends he would possibly be with them in two hours.

The Fresh Hair Fund.

"This is my Fresh Hair Fund," asserted Mr. Richdad, as he wrote another check for his son's college expenses.

Truly, the fresh hair was blowing the fund right along.

A man's good opinion of himself is endorsed by everybody except the rest of the world.

ROOSEVELT

NAMED TO HEAD THE NATIONAL PROGRESSIVE TICKET BY CHICAGO CONVENTION.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the delegates to the first national convention of the new Progressive party tonight acclaimed Col. Theodore Roosevelt of New York as their candidate for President and Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California as their choice for Vice President.

Marking a new departure in the proceedings of national conventions, the two candidates were formally notified of their nomination, and in the midst of deafening cheers appeared before the delegates to voice their acceptance and to pledge their best efforts to the coming campaign.

For several long hours during the afternoon and early evening the big throng in the Coliseum had listened to a flow of oratory in nominating and seconding speeches, in which the dominant note expressed was the belief that victory would come to the new party in the November elections. Raymond Robbins of Illinois pledged a 100,000 majority for the national ticket in Illinois, and Gifford Pinchot predicted a 300,000 majority for Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Johnson in his home state of Pennsylvania. These statements were cheered to the echo.

Progressive Party

The party formally christened itself "The Progressive party," leaving out the prefix "National," by which it has heretofore been known, but provision was made for the recognition of "real" progressives in any of the states by whatever name they should be locally designated because of State laws.

The convention adjourned at 7:24 p. m., with the delegates singing the "Doxology" in lusty voice. During the three days it was in session there was not a single roll call, nor a ballot taken. The delegates asked no such formalities either in placing their candidates in nomination or in voting for them. There was not a voice of opposition either to Colonel Roosevelt or Governor Johnson. The delay in nominating them was due to the large number of seconding speeches allowed.

The bulk of the work of the Progressive gathering was carried on in the committees. The only semblance of a conflict of opinion on the floor was a brief debate today as to whether or not an hour's recess should be taken. The point was not material, but, as one delegate expressed it, "We just had to fight about something to make it a regular convention."

Separating Honey.

To obtain strained honey, separating the honey from the wax as it comes to us in the frame, place the frame in a bowl in the oven, just warm enough to melt the honey and wax; then remove the frame and let the honey stand until cold, when the wax may be skimmed off the top without any trouble.

Formation of Diamonds.

Vol Bolton thinks that diamonds were formed in nature by the action of metal vapors, such as iron or magnesium, on carbon dioxide. He has succeeded in making microscopic diamonds by the action of mercury vapor on carbon.

Too many people are willing to forget and forgive—for a consideration.
